

Electromagnetic Digitizer Touch Panel

Electromagnetic digitizer operates based on electromagnetic sensing; it involves the use of an electromagnetic pen that functions as a signal transmitter while the electromagnetic board acts as a receiver. When the transmitter is brought close to the panel surface, the change in magnetic flux is registered for the system to compute and define the coordinates of the touch event.

